turning to paths of peace and of reducing armaments. The Premier said that the forces of the country which had kept Europe in arms for forty years were to be reduced to an army which would be only adequate enough to police her cities and protect her commerce. There were suggestions that there might be a war recurrence, in Germany. The Premier said that was not a danger. Lloyd George asserted, because only with difficulty could Germany raise 80,000 men to preserve order. The danger, he said, was of the world going to pieces, adding:

"A real danger—the specter of hunger—is stalking through the land."

Premier Lloyd George concluded by pleading to all "not to sell this triumph of right by indulging in the angry passions of mankind, but to consecrate the sacrifices of millions to the redemption of the human race from the scourge and agony of war."

STILL PERILOUS.

The Premier said the situation was "still full of perils for all countries." He pleaded that "those who were trying to do their best be let alone."

No conference in history, said the Premier, had been faced with problems of such variety, complexity, magnitude and gravity. The congress of Vienna, which was the nearest to it, took eleven months for its work, but that congress, Mr. Lloyd George pointed out, sank into insignificance as compared with what had been settled by this conference.

After referring to the world-wide extent of the war, the Premier said the new states had sprung into existence, some of them independent, some semi-independent, and some that might be protectorates, and although their boundaries might not be defined, some indication of them must be given.

WORLD LEAGUE.

The time spent by the Peace Conference in framing the League of Nations plan saved time instead of wasting it. Mr. Lloyd George declared, as the league would provide a means of adjustment of possible errors.

"It is not true that the United States and Europe have been at variance," the Premier declared. He deprecated attempts to sow dissensions among the delegates.

In answer to a question from John R. Clynes, a labor leader, whether approaches for peace had come from the Russian government, the Premier said:

"We have had no approaches of any sort or kind. None have been put before the conference."

Much as the British government deplores conditions in Russia, the Premier said, it is not its duty to commit England to a gigantic enterprise in order to improve conditions in Russia. He added:

EASY TO INVOLVE.

"Russia is a country very easy to involve and very difficult to get out of."

There was no question, he continued, of recognizing Russia. It had never been proposed and had never been discussed.

In the course of his remarks on the Russian situation, Premier Lloyd George, referring to the report that Americans who had visited Russia had brought back peace offers from that government, said:

"If President Wilson attached any value to them, he would have brought them before the conference, and he certainly did not."

PROBLEM SOLVED.

Questions have cropped up at the Peace Conference which imperiled the peace of Europe, but the Premier believed that the conference had surmounted these difficulties.

In his reference to his League of Nations deliberations, Mr. Lloyd George said the conference might have taken more time, but for the fact that it was setting up a machinery capable for readjusting and correcting possible mistakes.

"And that is why the League of Nations, instead of wasting time, saved time," he added.

The conference had to shorten its labors, continued the Premier, because while it was trying to build in many lands, the foundation of society was tumbling into the dust. No lot of men worked harder or in better harmony than the Peace Conference, he announced, and doubted whether any body of men ever worked under greater difficulties.

IMPATIENT WORLD.

"Stones were clattering on the roof and crashing through the windows, and wild men were screaming through the keyhole, while the enormous issues depending upon them required calm deliberation," the Premier said.

FEATURES OF PREMIER'S ADDRESS.

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, April 16.—No intervention in Russia; no recognition of Bolshevism, and the fulfillment of his election promises, including those relating to indemnity from the enemy powers and punishment of the former German Emperor, were the outstanding features of the report Premier Lloyd George delivered in the House of Commons today.

Every member who in his seat and the galleries were packed with distinguished visitors, including the Prince of Wales and the American Ambassador, John W. Davis, when the Premier entered the chamber, with the cheers of the great crowds outside still ringing in his ears.

In the main, the mood of the Premier was serious, and the audience listened with profound attention to his speech, which lasted for almost an hour and a half.

The laborites vigorously applauded the Premier's announcement of nonintervention in Russia, and nonrecognition of Bolshevism, but remained silent while the conservatives cheered the statement that the Allies would continue to aid friendly elements fighting Bolshevism.

At the conclusion of the Premier's speech, William Adamson, leader of the labor opposition in the House, rose and characterized the speech of the Prime Minister as eloquent, but not entirely satisfactory. Mr. Adamson's comment summed up the opinion of others among his auditors and numerous elements among the public, whom the newspapers for the last few days had prepared for illuminating revelations in the speech concerning the peace terms formulated.

This would be the surest road to the spread of Bolshevism to England. "My earnest conviction is that military intervention in Russia would be an act of the greatest stupidity," he declared.

THE PREMIER TO BLAME.

The Premier said he might be asked why he supported Admiral Kolchak and Gen. Denikin. He would tell them frankly, he said. When the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was signed, he explained, large parts of Russia were in the hands of the Bolsheviks, and were in revolt against the government which signed it.

"They raised arms at our instigation and largely at our expense," he added, "but that was absolutely sound military policy because without those organizations the Germans would have secured all the resources which would have enabled them to break the blockade."

"Bolshevism," continued the Premier, "had threatened to impose force of arms its domination over those populations which had revolted against it, and it would have been an act thoroughly unworthy of any great land to say to those populations: 'You have served your purpose, and we need you no longer,' and have left them to the Bolsheviks. It is our duty, since we asked them to take this step, to promise them support. We are not sending every Russian Bolshevik to the gallows."

They are to be supplied with the necessary arms.

BRITISH POLICY.

The Premier said he did not consider that this was a departure from the fundamental policy of Great Britain of not interfering in the internal affairs of any land. He continued:

"Our policy is to arrest the flood of the present forcible eruption of Bolshevism into Allied lands, and for that reason we are organizing all the forces in Allied countries bordering on Russia, territory from the Black Sea to the Baltic. If the Bolsheviks attack any of our allies it is our business to defend them."

"This is our policy, but we want peace in Russia. The world will not be passive as long as Russia is torn and rent by civil war."

"It is our policy to make peace among the warring nations, by reconciling one party, by inducing them to come together with a view to setting up some authority in Russia which would be acceptable to the whole Russian people, and that the Allies could recognize as their government." He did not despair, he said, of a solution being found.

BOLSHEVISM WANING.

After declaring that reliable information showed that, although the Bolshevik armed force was apparently growing, Bolshevism was gradually waning and breaking down before the relentless force of economic facts," the Premier said that when Bolshevism disappeared there would come the time to re-establish peace with Russia.

"We must have patience," he warned, "because we are dealing with a people misgoverned for centuries. There is a new spirit, and when she is once more sane and normal the Allies should make peace with her."

William Adamson, leader of the labor opposition in the House of Commons, following Premier Lloyd George, said in regard to the latter's address:

"The speech was eloquent, but not entirely satisfactory."

INTEREST WAXES.

Interest in the debate rapidly declined, the members flocking into the lobbies to discuss the Premier's speech. John R. Clynes, labor member and former Food Minister, declared it would be better to kill Bolshevism by feeding than by fighting. He complained it would be humiliating to receive news of the peace terms from Germany, and said that apparently Mr. Lloyd George would come to Parliament for a vote of confidence after the settlement of terms in which Parliament had no part.

At 6:30 o'clock a member called attention to the absence of a quorum. The doors were opened, but instead of the members entering to make a quorum, many of those present walked out and the House was counted out, standing adjourned for the Easter recess until April 23.

In his review during the earlier portion of his address of the difficulties confronting the Peace Conference from the many complex problems before it, the Premier pointed out that the boundaries of fourteen countries had to be readjusted. This, he said, would give some idea of the purely territorial difficulties. But he added, there were problems affecting the peace of the world and the destiny of the human race, and if there were blunders made, humanity would have to pay for them.

In giving a list of the problems, the Premier concluded with the subject of indemnities. His mention of this brought cheers from the members of the House who had sent him the telegram during the earlier part of the day, saying in referring to this problem: "That is not an easy one, but even to be settled by a telegram."

FRICITION WITH JAPAN DENIED AT CAPITAL.

NO SERIOUS DISPUTES PENDING, IS STATE DEPARTMENT STATEMENT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Acting Secretary of State Polk today authorized the statement that no serious questions were pending between the United States and Japan and that the indications were that minor issues arising from the situation in Siberia and the recent trouble at Tientsin as well as Peace Conference problems soon would be amicably settled without in any way straining the relations between the two countries.

It was learned authoritatively that there were no American troops in the vicinity when a Japanese unit in Siberia was wiped out recently by Russians.

Reports that Americans refused to aid the Japanese have arisen, it was explained, because Maj.-Gen. Graves, acting in accordance with his instructions, declined to join in an attack upon a force of Russians, whom he did not regard as Bolshevik or enemies. Gen. Graves' position was made known when the Japanese commander applied for cooperation in advance. The Japanese nevertheless undertook the expedition alone.

Formal denial was made today by Acting Secretary Crowell of a published report that Gen. Graves had reported to the War Department that American troops did not participate in the engagement at Haharokov on February 25 because the Japanese had shot down women and children.

It was stated officially that Gen. Graves in his report made only the explanation that the conditions surrounding the contemplated operation by the Japanese did not, in his opinion, justify the participation of American troops.

Mr. Polk said there has been many unjustified sensational reports recently.

It was disclosed that the engagement in question was fought at Haharokov, February 25, by a Japanese unit against revolutionaries against Gen. Horvath, and that no American troops were in the vicinity. The Japanese force literally was wiped out.

Gen. Graves' report said the revolt against Gen. Horvath was caused by alleged atrocities. Both State and War departments regard the attitude of Gen. Graves as entirely proper.

The policies of the United States and Japan as to the conduct of operations in Siberia, and the reasons for the presence of Allied troops at Vladivostok, it was officially stated, are the same, although there is a difference of opinion as to the extent to which the troops should be used. An understanding on this point is expected.

CHARLES A. SULZER

OF ALASKA IS DEAD.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

KETCHIKAN (Alaska) April 16.—Charles A. Sulzer, Congressional delegate-elect from Alaska, died suddenly last night aboard a launch, the Taku II, while coming from the town of Sulzer to Ketchikan for medical treatment. Sulzer's body arrived here today.

Sulzer, a Democrat, was seated in Congress as delegate from Alaska early in 1917. He held his post until last fall, when he lost a contest for the seat brought by former Delegate James Wickersham, his Republican opponent at the polls. Last November, Sulzer and Wickersham were again candidates. Although the result was close, Sulzer from Juneau recently said the canvassing board had decided to award the certificate of election to Sulzer. He was a brother of former Gov. Sulzer of New York.

British Chaplain Describes Tyrannous Conditions.

(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
LONDON, April 15.—How Odessa suffered from a systematic campaign of murder, robbery and outrage, after the first entry of the Bolsheviks on March 15, is described by Courtney Foster, a British chaplain at Odessa, in an article published in the Daily Chronicle. He says: "If the brutal tyranny which the Bolsheviks compelled the terror-stricken Russian people to accept in the name of 'freedom of the mind and body' punishes all liberty of thought with tor-

A DISCOVERY THAT BENEFITS MANKIND

Two discoveries have added greatly to human welfare. In 1855 Newton originated the vacuum process for condensing milk with sugar to a semi-solid form. In 1885 Horlick at Racine, Wis., discovered how to reduce milk to a dry powder form with extract of malted grain, without cane sugar. This product HORLICK named Malted Milk. (Name since copied by others). Its nutritive value, digestibility and ease of preparation (by simply stirring in water) and the fact that it keeps in any climate, has proved of much value to mankind as an ideal food-drink from infancy to old age.

CHEMIST TELLS HOW TO REMOVE CORNS

Tells How to Remove Corns at Home Without Pain or Danger.
Mr. B. E. Hixson, a well-known Kansas City chemist, recently made the following statement regarding corns: "It is not only painful, but dangerous to cut a corn on account of the possibility of infection." You can remove them in the privacy of your own home without pain or danger. Simply get a small bottle of Cactus Corn Compound, at any drug store, and paint the corn with it. In a few days the corn will come off without any pain. No more need to interfere with your work. A bottle of Cactus Corn Compound costs only a few cents and is enough to take off dozens of corns. Full directions come with each bottle. Any druggist will refund your money if you are not satisfied.

ture, outrage and death, freedom of the body is equally travestied by unthinkable cruelties, unless the term is accepted as synonymous with bestial indecency and moral depravity. Women and girls engaged in shopping commissions in the lower parts of the town were seized by bands of men from the Red army and carried off to warehouse yards and similar places where their fate was worse than death. Indeed in many instances they were found dead on the following morning. Orgies which defy description were of daily occurrence. "Wine shops and cellars were by degrees broken into and looted. Throughout the city, free drinks from pails and buckets were given to all who cared for them. Women returning from the market in the morning were stopped and compelled to drink from pails held on high by two soldiers. On one afternoon it was my fate to come away from a shop and find the streets running red, with hundreds of gallons of wine roaring from smashed vases and great stores. Numbers of Bolsheviks lay flat on the pavement with faces in the gutter, drinking from the stream which flowed past, carrying with it the accumulated filth and refuse of the uncleaned city. "This is the Bolshevik idea of freedom of the body coupled with the right to make the public parks and gardens a scene of indescribable obscenities, and the recognition of murder and assassination as customary methods of dealing with those whom ideas of freedom of the body savor of sympathy with the worst and benighted standards of the effete civilization of the Allies. "The brutality of assassination increased daily. There lived, a few hours from the funereal street in which I had my quarters, a young wife and little son of a junior officer who was at the time in Petrograd. She went one day to draw her allowance, which amounted to only a few pounds. Small as the sum was it aroused the cupidity of a few watchful Bolsheviks. On the following morning her apartment was found looted and she and her boy dead in bed, pierced through and through with thrusts from bayonets. "In the same street, the Kanatnaya, another ghastly affair came to my notice. One morning two quietly-dressed ladies were standing at a corner awaiting the coming of a street car. A party of Bolsheviks approached and noticed them as members of the persecuted 'bourgeois' class. Without the formality of any arrest or the mockery of a trial, both were shot dead on the pavement at the street corner. "It is a return of this wanton brutality and reign of terror which awaits those harassed and luckless citizens who find themselves once again in the clutches of the Red army. Odessa has fallen, and Soviet Russia thrills with triumph at the defeat of the Allies. The effect on the armies of Denikin and Kolchak will be immediate. The anti-Bolshevik allies of the Entente will be weakened and disheartened. God help those who fall into the power of Lenin's armies! For a mortal blow has been struck at the prestige of the Entente in the home of Bolshevism."

OPPOSE COUNTY HIGHWAY Automobile Club Urges the Legislature to Drop Bailey's-Lancaster Road.

BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SACRAMENTO, April 16.—"Why sacrifice a farmers' utility road to construct a scenic highway for tourists and pleasure-seekers and to save certain power companies hundreds of thousands of dollars in hauling freight, supplies and men to their power plants in the Kern River Canyon?" This question has been put by the Los Angeles delegation in the Assembly to the representatives of the Automobile Club of Southern California who are here seeking to aid the road-seekers from Kern county in their effort to build a scenic highway from Bakersfield through Mojave and over easy grades that will be only twenty-one miles longer than the proposed dirt road over Walker's Pass. It is pointed out here that few tourists even would care to use the Walker's Pass dirt road when the other road with easy grades and paved roadway is available. Members of the Los Angeles delegation in the Assembly have agreed that they will not oppose the construction of both highways, despite the unfair attempt that Kern county has made to insist on the construction of both highways, despite the fact that the Kern county road is a dirt road for a paved highway. For it is true that some of the roads now included are less meritorious than the Walker's Pass road. But they cannot understand why the Automobile Club of Southern California has picked on the Bailey's-Lancaster road. The club says it is about the only farmers' road in the whole proposed highway system. Representatives of the Automobile Club here say, however, that they are instructed to insist on the substitution of the Walker's Pass road for the Bailey's-Lancaster highway. Until they are released from those instructions by President Baker or Mr. Keller, they cannot take a part in any conference looking towards the construction of both lines. If both roads were included, Southern California would still have not more than 10 per cent. of the mileage of the highways built or about to be built by the State. BAILEY'S ROAD. The Bailey's-Lancaster road furnishes an alternative route from Bakersfield to Los Angeles, connecting Valley State highway with Lincoln State highway. The route will be open all the year and will be only twenty-five miles longer than the dangerous ridge route, which is closed frequently in winter, and will provide a road without grades for heavy autos and trucks between the San Joaquin Valley and Southern California. The people of Antelope Valley are forming an assessment district and will raise $100,000 to build a road from Lancaster to the Mojave-Barstow road. When this is done the Bailey's-Lancaster road will connect the National Old Trails highway with the Valley State highway leading into the San Joaquin Valley. There are 120,000 acres of fertile land between Bailey's and Lancaster which average twenty-three miles away from any railway; all of this is less than five miles from the proposed road. VAST TRACT SEIZED. More than 30,000 acres of this is now needed to grain. Sixty thousand more fertile acre well adapted to all irrigated crops lie near this road and are served by no railway. Ample water is available on every acre of this land with an average lift of only forty feet. Eleven hundred carloads of produce were shipped from Lancaster alone last year. Antelope Valley hogs took first prize at the Sacramento State Fair last year. Thousands of acres of pear trees are coming into bearing and the value of the fruit is more than $5,000,000 now. The Antelope Valley is in its infancy, but with adequate transportation facilities it will soon become one of the great productive valleys of California. All of the great valleys of California were so-called "deserts" before they developed water and transportation facilities. VALLEY HAS WATER. The Antelope Valley has the water; the road will help to make it a great productive farming community which will be an asset to the State of California. Why spend $800,000 to give people of Owens Valley a dirt road over the mountains to Bakersfield when they already have an improved road by way of Mojave and the Tehachapi road with an addition of only twenty-one miles? Why sacrifice a farmers' utility road to construct a scenic highway for tourists and pleasure-seekers, and to save certain power companies hundreds of thousands of dollars in hauling freight, supplies and men to their power plants in the Kern River Canyon? The action of the Southern California Automobile Club opposing the construction of the Bailey's-Lancaster highway is all the more inexplicable here because there is not a single club or association in the whole of Northern or Central California that has opposed the Bailey's-Lancaster road or endorsed the Walker's Pass road. The Northern California Automobile Club is supporting the Los Angeles county highway and the members here are mystified at the action of the southern club in opposing it. The Walker's Pass road is supported only by the Southern California Automobile Club and a few local associations in or adjacent to Kern county. Los Angeles county Supervisors here refuse to believe that the majority of the members of the Southern California Automobile Club are in sympathy with the action of its management in knocking the Bailey's-Lancaster highway.

GIRL'S SMALL FEET CAUSE HER ARREST.

SOLDIER'S UNIFORM FAILS TO MISLEAD SHARP-EYED POMONA COP.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENT.)
POMONA, April 16.—Betrayed by her small feet, a girl wearing the regulation uniform of an overseas soldier, giving her name as Margaret King, and claiming to be 26 years old, was taken into custody here today by Officer Parker. With her was a young man giving his name as John Traconis and age as 24, who claims to have formerly operated a barber shop in China. He is now in the City Jail facing a possible charge of contributing to the delinquency of the girl. The young woman refuses to say why she donned the uniform and said it was given to her by a soldier at San Pedro. The man registered the two as man and wife at the Weston Hotel, where he says he cut the girl's hair. According to the couple they had become acquainted in a Long Beach theater. They saw nothing more of each other until yesterday when they boarded the same bus at Fullerton. Each claimed that the meeting was a coincidence. Arriving here they went to the Weston Hotel, where they were registered as man and wife.

WOODEN MOTOR SHIPS LATE PLAN OF BOARD.

SMALL VESSELS TO BE BUILT ON COAST WOULD BURN OIL, CRUISE 5000 MILES.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—Motorships to be built on the Pacific Coast with big steaming radius, is the latest plan of the Shipping Board for making American sea conquest. Representatives of the Peninsular Shipbuilding Company, Portland, Or., are trying to induce the Shipping Board to build a large number of motor ships with 4000 tonnage, a length of 284 feet and a steaming radius of 5000 miles as against the same-sized ship with coal-burner engines of 1500 miles. All the officials of the Shipping Board are prejudiced against wood ships and are against building any more, though the pressure from the Oregon men is strong. In a few weeks the whole shipbuilding programme for steel ships, which was suspended some time ago, will be restored at greatly reduced prices per ton, about $150 being the standard price per ton. There will be three classes of regular cargo ships and a fourth, the steel motorship of 8000 tons, which, like the wooden motor ship, if built, will use Diesel oil engines. These steel motor ships will be able to cruise 24,000 miles without refueling or once around the world. They will make an average speed of about nine knots. The other types of steel ships will be of 15,000 tons, 12,500 and one 10,000 tons, respectively. The latter along the same lines as being built now with some changes to better speed and cargo-carrying capacity. If the board decides to build the wooden motor ships it will provide auxiliary sails and while under engine power they will be able to do about six knots, with favorable winds they may do nine and as high as twelve knots an hour.

News from Capt. Kruss.

The anxiety of Miss Eleanor Drach for her fiancé, from whom she had received no word since Christmas, was relieved yesterday by a long letter, written from a Red Cross hospital in Padua, Italy. He was sent on a secret mission from an Italian post up into the devastated mountain area of Northern Italy, where there is no railroad, no telephone or postal communication, everything having been destroyed. He was taken ill with influenza and pneumonia developed, and he lay between life and death for a long time. His condition is much improved and he is on his way back home, to meet his sweetheart and to name the day of their wedding.

Capt. Kruss, a close friend of the late Mayor McCallister, was his last instructor at North Island. Capt. Kruss has been abroad a year and has received the distinguished service medal from the Italian army.

For Easter Holidays. Word comes from Honolulu that Mr. George Allan Hancock will soon be leaving for home, in fine health. His trip did him a world of good. Mrs. Hancock is planning an enjoyable Easter holiday, as her daughter, Miss Rosemary Hancock, will come home from Kansas, and their son, Bertram Dean Hancock, will come down from Santa Clara College, where he is a student. While they are here the family will move up to Santa Barbara. Mrs. Hancock's close friend, Mrs. Daniel Murphy, is still here, and her husband, Mr. Murphy, came down from the Philippines, where he was in the submarine service. The couple will leave Friday for Los Angeles, where they will make their home.

Personal. Misses Ethel, Harri and Byrd Walls returned home yesterday from a six week's trip to Arizona. They were accompanied by their brother, who is now in the service. Their brother motored there with them, but the girls made the trip back alone. Miss Harri driving most of the time. They are now planning a trip to San Francisco.

VALUABLE RUBBISH. Investigation of the supposed stealing last week of four valuable diamond rings from Mrs. E. W. Penner of the Pickwick apartments, brought forth the announcement yesterday that the rings may not have been stolen at all, as Mrs. Penner's report to the police stated, but that she had been given the rings by a friend. No clothing was taken by the supposed thieves. The only thing missing is the little chain of gold which contained the rings.

Double Birthday Party. The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. J. FOR WOMAN BANKER.

To Conduct Funeral Services Tomorrow for Mrs. Margaret H. Myers.

Funeral services for Mrs. Margaret H. Myers, mother of William H. Myers, manager of the Myers Land Company, will be conducted at 2 p.m., tomorrow, at the family residence, 6438 Pasadena avenue.

Mrs. Myers, who died Monday, was 64 years old, and was president of the Myers Land Company, a family-owned corporation. She came here in 1903 from Anita, Iowa, where she was president of the Bank of Anita. She was the widow of the late Cornelius H. Myers, and leaves her son, and two grandchildren, Mrs. Neva M. Jones and Mrs. Helen M. Rohrer of Los Angeles.

OFFICER PAYS ARREARS.

Maj. Mettler Promises to Obey Court's Alimony Order.

Maj. Edwin G. Mettler, who has made frequent appearances in the failure-to-provide court, and on his latest appearance was held to answer, pending the preparation of a new complaint against him, seems to have left the State and gone to Arizona, and then to have thought he had better return.

While officers were searching for him, he voluntarily gave himself up. Yesterday, in Judge Craig's court, he paid up three months' arrears, at the rate of $25 a month, and agreed to pay $25 a month regularly. He was released on his own recognizance. Mrs. Mettler, it seems, has an income of $50 a week. On that account, the court recently denied her separate maintenance.

WOMAN ENDS LIFE.

Worry brought on by ill health according to the police was the cause of the suicide of Mrs. Anna Stewart, of Pasadena, who ended her life by hanging early yesterday at a private home on 316 West Avenue 51.

The body was discovered a short time later. The body was removed to the Gay Company Undertaking parlors at Pasadena.

INDIANS DIVORCED.

Stylishly-attired Woman Wins Decree, Custody of Children.

Mrs. Esther Zavala, a member of the Mission Indian tribe, sought a divorce in Judge Shenk's court yesterday, from Ralph Zavala, also a member of the same tribe. While the defendant contested the case up to the time of trial, he did not appear in court, but was represented by an attorney. Mrs. Zavala, who charged desertion and non-support, was granted the decree and the custody of the two children.

Mrs. Zavala, an attractive woman, was stylishly attired and spoke perfect English. It appeared that one of the causes of the trouble was that she wanted to visit her folks and Mr. Zavala objected. Further than that the court was unable to get at the reason which caused the separation. The couple were married June 27, 1911, and separated September 7, 1914.

REUBEN WILL MEET MILLER.

To be Next Opponent of Champion Wrestler.

Match Takes Place at Athletic Club May 8.

Battle will be for the Middleweight Honors.

Walter Miller's next opponent will be Ben Reuben of Chicago, according to an announcement made last night by Charley Keppen, manager of athletics at the L.A.A.C.

The date set for the bout is May 8, and the place, as usual, will be in the club gymnasium. The club officials have been endeavoring to line up Reuben for the past few weeks because of his reputation as a crack wrestler, and finally succeeded yesterday.

In meeting Reuben, Miller's title, middleweight champion of the world, will be at stake. Miller's last appearance was nearly two months ago when he defeated Mike Yokel, after the Wyoming "Wild Cat" had taken the first fall. The bout was declared by those who have been close followers of the grappling sport as being one of the best ever put on in this city.

Though Reuben has never appeared before a Los Angeles audience, he has a commendable reputation, due to the fact that he holds a victory over Mike Yokel. Last spring Reuben took two straight falls from the well known wrestler all of which gave the dopesters plenty of material to work on.

It will be remembered that Reuben appeared in the Panama-Pacific A.A.U. wrestling championships and has little trouble walking off with title honors. It was in this same tournament, only in a different division, that Earl Caddock first sprung into the lime-light and since that time both men have worked together, until now Caddock is the bearer of the world's professional heavyweight championship, while Reuben makes his debut as a contender for the middleweight title.

According to Keppen, at the present time there are two Chicago Athletic club men visiting at the L.A.A.C. who have seen Reuben in action in a number of bouts, and they steadfastly declare that the middleweighter will wrest the middleweight crown from Walter Miller's fair forehead.

Reuben is strictly a middleweight wrestler and as a result his match with Miller should be chock-full of thrills, from a point of speed, science and endurance. Nowadays, the wrestling populace craves action, and the club officials believe that in putting on the Miller-Reuben match, their wish will be granted.

A most gratifying and interesting angle to the staging of the bout is the fact that Miller has never seen Reuben, either in civilian clothes or in wrestling togs, while heretofore, all of his opponents have been men that he has met and defeated or been defeated by them. All Miller knows about Reuben is that he has a clean-cut victory over Yokel and that is sufficient to cause him to put in several weeks of arduous training.

If Reuben proves up to the reputation that has been established for him by the aforementioned visiting Chicago Athletic club representatives, it is safe to state that Miller is in for a busy night on May 8. However, this may be indirectly determined when Reuben starts working for the affair.

Because of his wrestling relations with Earl Caddock, Reuben should rank with the cleverest men that have shown here. No doubt he employs many of Caddock's tricks and being acquainted with the scientific manner in which the heavyweight titleholder works, he should be a most worthy opponent for Miller.

On the other hand, Miller's ability to take care of himself in the ring is well known to all those who have followed the wrestling game. He has been declared by many as being one of the cleverest wrestlers that ever wore the middleweight crown. He is aggressive and strong and takes advantage of every opening. While he has never displayed any pet tricks in downing opponents, he is versatile.

FIVE CARDINAL PITCHERS HURT.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 16.—Five members of the regular pitching staff of the St. Louis Nationals were injured here today when they were riding on a street car.

The injured were William Doak, Leon Ames, Oscar Horstman, William Sherdel and L. O. Meadows. The car was driven by Meadows.

Branch Rickey, manager of the Cardinals, after visiting the men, said he was unable to determine what affect the accident would have on the team.

The variety baseball teams of California and Stanford will meet at Stanford while the freshmen toppers will meet their Stanford opponents here. The variety track teams will perform against the Olympic Club of San Francisco and the California and Stanford freshmen swimmers will meet at an Alameda resort.

BOWLING NOTES.

About fifty of the local bowling colony are preparing to attend the Pacific Coast Bowling Association convention, which convenes at San Francisco, May 17 to 24, inclusive.

A meeting has been called to elect delegates from Los Angeles. At the time of the convention the P.C.B.A. also holds a tournament for five men, two men and individual events, and the winners thereof are champions for the ensuing year.

For the past two years Los Angeles has brought home the bacon, and this year has organized five five-man teams, composed of the stars of former years and some new blood to uphold the honor of our city.

J. Henry Hauser, president of the San Francisco Bowling Association, writes to Alfred Mackenzie that reports throughout the Coast indicate that the attendance at the 1919 convention and tournament will likely exceed the great showing made by Los Angeles last year, and that the bowling fraternity of San Francisco are making wonderful preparations for the entertainment of visiting brethren.

Oakland, who is out for the 1920 convention, has arranged a big booster tournament, open to P.C.B.A. entries only. Oakland has entered twelve teams in the big event.

LEAGUE BEGINS SEASON IN MAY.

Investors Take Notice

If you heard that you could get into a manufacturing business that has paid in some cases as high as $7500 for every $1000 originally invested, you would hardly believe it, yet I can prove this to be true.

You can get into the same line of manufacturing business as this right now and I can show you conclusively that your money will not only be safe but that you will receive big returns on every dollar invested now. This is no "get rich quick" Wallingford outfit, but a legitimate, going, progressive business, now ready to expand into larger fields. I will give full details if you will see me at 400 H. W. Hellman Bldg., ask for Mr. Graves.

The Shaving Service for Every Man—Everywhere

The Meaning of "No Stopping—No Honing"

HERE is the famous Gillette Diamond-Trademark—the mark of the one great shaving invention in all history.

"No Stopping—No Honing" brands the blade as the highest type of shaving edge ever developed—a Blade new in principle, in steel, temper, finish and use.

The term "No Stopping—No Honing" will appeal to every man anxious to eliminate unnecessary labor and save valuable time.

It calls on him to think why he hones or stops, needlessly.

"No Stopping—No Honing" signifies the application of science to razor-blade making—just as stop and hone represent the persistence of out-worn rule of thumb ideas.

It characterizes a hard-tempered, long-lasting blade, which has supplanted the blade that you have to stop and hone to boost it up to its work.

Just as certain you buy a tire, you know that some it will "cash in" checks"—and money's worth.

Unless this be Diamond count on Diamond to roll up 5,000 miles and 8,000 miles consistently—cheaply they COST less than most tires.

For example, winter driving on chains, 341 miles averaged over 5,000 miles on Quaker Co. tires in Philadelphia. The Quaker Co. averages between 6,000 and 8,000 miles with Diamond.

for Their Homes.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SAN DIEGO, April 16.—

Nearly 400 officers and men,

the remainder of the One Hundred and Sixtieth Infantry, of the Fortieth Division, received their discharge at Camp Kearny today, and left for their homes at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Yesterday 450 men of the regiment were discharged, after the entire regiment had been paraded and an address had been made to the men by Maj.-Gen.

Strong, commander of the division.

The young man saw a photograph of the Fresno believe and fell in love with the girl. He went to Fresno and met the girl, and subsequently the parents arranged the marriage. The girl, it is alleged, had no choice.

The marriage took place and the bride and groom came to

Los Angeles. When the pros-

Walter Mallard, who is a candidate for re-election to the Council, has been so busy with official business, as chairman of the Council's Finance Committee, that he has done no special campaigning. He spoke yesterday afternoon before the Los Angeles federation, W.C.T.U., outlining the work he has performed in public office and declaring his willingness to stand on his record before the voters of Los Angeles.

Mr. Mallard was born in Los Angeles and has lived here all his life. He was chief deputy in the County Assessor's office, in 1907 was elected City Asses-

The Victory Loan special, laden with priceless trophies of war and manned by soldiers and government officials, was held up near San Fernando late yesterday afternoon by thirty armed and mounted men.

The engineer was compelled to back the train to a spot designated by the bandits and descend to the ground. The passengers were searched while covered with rifles and revolvers. Those who showed fight were promptly lashed. The leader of the band was identified by some of the victims as a well-known character who has been linked with many thrilling episodes of like nature in the past.

His name is William S. Hart, and he is alleged to be actively in league with the motion-picture propaganda branch of "Victory" magazine. The train will exhibit today in Santa Monica. Its itinerary includes a tour of the northern coast of California, returning to Southern California toward the close of the campaign.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is squarely behind the Victory
